Sun Valley is back by popular demand. Created by renowned Stonehenge designer, Linda Ludovico, has done it again! With all new feature designs, Sun Valley 2 is sure to heat up the Southwest. In order to capture the vast color range and subtle textural details, the main prints have been printed digitally. The panel, featuring a Southwest landscape is set against a radiant sunset. The striking woven diamond and Navaho print is reminiscent of native blankets. A wide variety of blender prints and textures complete the collection. The exquisite palette of Sundance invokes images of the of Southwest skies with intense colors from warm reds, oranges and yellows to cool shades of teal, turquoise and green that will make your project sing! A variety of existing Stonehenge Gradations coordinate beautifully with the collection.
