Created by Tina Higgins, Something Blue offers something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. It is based on tradition that is borrowed from the past yet is updated and new, and certainly offers something blue. Traditional floral prints in small, medium, and large scale in dark, medium, and light values are complemented by a variety of mix and match prints and blenders in blue, green and cream. A lovely full width border, floral stripe and medallion print are featured, while toile and butterflies as well as a selection of Colorworks premium solids complete the group.
